REGINA, Nov. 21.

On Monday Turill and Oliver moved that it be desirable that a vote of the people of the Northwest Territories should be taken on the question of license against prohibition. Haultain assented to the amendment, that the assembly favored license but would ask that the federal government should take a vote by referendum. The debate was continued in the evening session, when Haultain withdrew his amendment and Cayley and Tweed moved, that an amendment be added to original motion, that in the event of a vote not being taken, a stringent license system should be substituted for the prohibition law. The debate lasted until ten, when the amendment was defeated by fourteen to six, and the original motion carried by the same vote.

Nayes-Haultain, Hooty, Tweed, Cayley, Lineham, Betts, &c.

Yeas—Sutherland, Jelly, Reaman, Plaxton, Thorburn, Richardson, Neff, Brett, Davidson, Oliver, Secord, Turill, Ross, Clinkskill.—14 Mitchell did not vote.

Tuesday was occupied chiefly in considering Thorburn's ordinance to prohibit nuisances in unincorporated towns, and the establishment of the principle that all executive acts should be in the name of the Lieutenant Governor in Council, meaning the Lieutenant Gov. acting with the advice and consent of the advisory board.

REGINA, Nov. 23.

There were two sessions each on Wednesday and Thursday, and municipal ordinances are disposed of in committee. Expenses in municipal ordinances are largely reduced. Persons amended in detail.

Public accounts for year ending August 31st, show a revenue of $16,000 over previous year, the difference being made by liquor fines going to the local treasury. The estimates for the current year are not down yet, but it is expected that the total amount available for public improvements from local funds and federal grants will not exceed $25,000. The expenses of government salaries amount to about $60,000, aid to schools $60,000, and public works $20,000, thus absorbing the federal grant of $140,000.

A committee consisting of Turill, Ross, Oliver, Neff and Richardson has been appointed to submit proposition for taking the vote on the liquor question.

Clinkskill's resolution against wood and hay dues adopted.

A resolution by the same to reconsider rebellion claims of all age—half breeds comes up to-morrow.

Mitchell has moved for a committee to consider in question of additional scrip for half breeds.

OTTAWA, Nov. 21.

The election of White in Carleton, is protested.

Hon. E. Dewdney is in Toronto on private business.

TORONTO, Nov. 19.

The massing of Russian troops on the German and Austrian frontiers, is causing uneasy feelings in diplomatic circles. Austria has been quietly reinforcing her garrisons in Bosnia and Herzegovina, and has made preparations to send a force into Servia, in the event of a formidable outbreak there. Russia has notified the dual monarchy, that Austrian troops enter Servia, Russian troops would immediately occupy Bulgaria. Another cause of alarm is the strong feeling of jealousy between France and Italy arising out of their rivalry on the Mediterranean sea coast.

OTTAWA, Nov. 20.

Attorney General Martin arrived to-day, and spent the afternoon in the Supreme court library. He talks freely, and pretends to have the people of the province at his back, and puts the blame on the C. P. R. If unsuccessful in the supreme court, and if the Dominion government fails to grant justice, they will petition the Imperial parliament to amend the British North America Act. Martin is advised that Nova Scotia, Ontario, Quebec, and probably New Brunswick, will send counsel, who will ask to take part in the argument in support of the contention of the Manitoba government.

KINGSTON, Nov. 19.

Miss Macdonald, arriving sister of Sir John, died on Sunday. After several weeks illness. Sir John arrived yesterday.

REGINA, Nov. 22.

The C.P.R. are getting the R. & L. Lake, R.R. into such shape as will permit the running of a train. The work is being done under Asst. Supt. Tait, of Moose Jaw.

OTTAWA, Nov. 20.

Arrangements have been completed at the central experimental farm for testing vitality of samples of frozen grain, as well as cereals and agricultural seeds of all sorts. Samples are asked for from all parts of the returns promptly forwarded to the individuals sending them. Samples may be sent free by mail, addressed to Director of Experimental Farm, Ottawa. No charge is made for tests, mailing or samples.

W. J. Haney and Ryan Ross, signed the contract for the Soo canal, the price being $1,250,000.

The great Manitoba Ry. case opened to-day. Attorney General Martin occupied a seat on the front benches, and on each side sat his counsel, Hon. D. McWatt and Dalton McCarthy, Hon. Langellier appeared on behalf of Quebec. Other provinces not represented. The C.P.R. counsel were Hon. E. Blake, Hon. C. Robinson and Dalton McCarthy. If the C.P.R. was provincial railway charter, they would secure for the various provinces the right to authorize building of railways within their territory with power to cross other railways, whether built under federal or provincial charters. Hon. E. Blake opened the proceedings on behalf of the C.P.R. in what is characterized as one of the most able arguments of his life.

LONDON, Nov. 21.

This city was startled this morning by a report that another unfortunate woman had fallen a victim to the Whitechapel fiend, but it was found afterwards that she was still living, although horribly mangled.

A statement has been made by a Buffalo paper that nearly all the druggists assistants in that city are Canadians. The Montreal Herald in commenting on the statement attributes it to the overcrowding of the two professions of law and medicine. Doctors and lawyers are turned out at a rate greatly in excess of the demand, and consequently seek employment across the lines. For the past few years there has been a continual exodus of young Canadian blood to the States, until now it would be within the mark to say, that there are one million Canadians enriching the republic by their industry. To such an extent has this been the case, that the population of the Dominion has been brought almost to a standstill. But the exodus has not been confined by any means to the professions, for those great an extent is also true of farmers and artisans. A multitude of reasons might be given for it, but the remedy lies with the heads of families and Canadians themselves. Train the boys at home, in its judgment, everywhere and at all times to believe that Canada is the best country in the world, and possesses just as great facilities for getting on as the neighboring republic. One of the peculiar characteristics of our neighbors is the power they possess of Americanizing everyone who lands on their shores. The Yankee press from afar to the farmer is fairly soaked with the belief that the United States is "The land of every laud the pride beloved by heaven or all the world besides." And to judge by their school maps it occupies more space on the globe than all the rest of the world put together. Until we have such a national sentiment we cannot compete successfully with the Americans, in securing emigrants, or in retaining those we have.

Dr. Appleton's edict, November 8th: Senator Hardisty has been in town during the week on business connected with the H. B. Co. He leaves to-day for Pelly.

A. LAMOREAUX, trapped a beautiful silver fox, near his place on the Sturgeon this week. He also saw two black ones, but was not able to secure them. The black ones have been seen in that vicinity for the last year or two. About two weeks ago the Rev. G. H. Irons was in the same neighborhood, one that appeared to be a cross between a black and red the black predominating. If the black ones are not caught here, the loss to the value of fox skins from that locality will be considerably increased.

In the consideration of the ex-emption law in committee of the whole on Monday 12th, Oliver, member for Edmonton, said:

"The true necessity for an ex-emption ordinance had not yet been set forth. The reason for such an ordinance was not to protect the farmers, or to save the settlers from debts due down east, but because it was not considered in the public interest that any individual be deprived of a living, and as most debtors had more than one creditor, if there were no ex-emption law one might seize everything and no means left whereby the others could collect their debts."

On October the 25th, two teams belonging to J. Edmonton and N. McCullagh were sent to the Little Lake to assist Mr. Q. Irvine, the government surveyor who has been working during the past year on the line between Alaska and British Columbia. Word was received from him that he expected to arrive there on the 28th, but if he is prevented there navigation before he came they were to wait for 15 days after the river froze up. The team came in on Friday, but left again to-day to wait until the 5th of December. The ice began running in the Athabasca on October 17th, and the river finally froze up on the 15th of November, so that the surveying party will have to travel, since middle of October, by the overland route.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, NOV. 24, 1888.

EDMONTON DISTRICT.

Last mail a letter was received from a gentleman in Medicine Hat asking for information about the Edmonton District as a field for emigration. He intends delivering addresses in Ontario this winter, and desires as much reliable information about the north west as can be procured. As there may be others who are not cognizant of the facts it may be as well to give the subject publicity through the columns of the BULLETIN. The impression seems to prevail among many people living in the east, that lying so far north as it does, this part of the great west is subject to all the rigors of an arctic climate. That such is not the case many will not believe, and are not likely to be convinced except by personal observation. It is always wise in describing a place, or district, to tell the simple truth and stick closely to facts, as people of common sense will be the sooner convinced in this way than by any highly colored description that may be given. As this is the oldest settled place in the Northwest there has sufficient time elapsed for it to establish a record, and give the settlers ample opportunity to judge by experience, of its capabilities as an agricultural country. On its past experience there is no doubt. The settled district may be described as a belt from ten to twenty-five miles wide, and extending along the North Saskatchewan for about 35 miles, and drained by that river. General farming operations have been carried on in this belt for say, ten years, and during that time wheat has never been a total failure but once, and that was last year. This year the crop was an exceptionally heavy one, but was equalled in yield by the one of two years ago. Last season the only crop harvested was oats and it was good. Threshing for this year is well on and some phenomenally heavy yields are reported. George Sutherland of the Sturgeon River settlement last week threshed 650 bushels of oats from 8 acres, by measure, and as the grain is plump and heavy the yield will be considerably more by weight. J. H. Long of the same place had 50 bushels of oats from one load. The average yield as nearly as can be ascertained however, will be about 30 bushels of wheat, 65 of oats and 50 of barley per acre. The sample is good, and all uninjured by frost. The first frost of the season was on the evening of September 19th, and then only light, but by that time grain was all cut and out of danger. The root crop, particularly potatoes, was good but nothing extraordinary for here. Carrots, beets, turnips and all garden stuff yielded well, and were saved in good order, the only damage being from grubs in land that has been worked for some years. In past years as a rule crops have been pretty sure, the only danger being from an occasional frost in the early part of August in some localities. But the years exempt from frost, while the crops were growing, were more than those in which damage was done.

The farmers as a class are doing well, and have always had a ready market for their surplus stock and produce. Most of them are engaged in mixed farming, as it is more profitable than by any one specialty of any one line. The supply has never equalled the demand, in flour, butter and meat and large quantities are shipped in annually, and in consequence the prices procured for those articles have been good. The prosperity of the community is seen in new buildings and fences, and by the purchase of agricultural machinery, there being about $5,000 expended this year in implements alone. A phenomenally deep rich soil, good water, plenty of timber for fuel and building purposes, nutritious grasses, and a climate second to none, make this a most favored country for farming. There is no fuel problem to solve, as nature has provided most liberally, in the vast coal beds underlying the whole country. Coal is delivered from the mines, of which there are four in operation, ton $3.50 per ton, and on the Sturgeon and in many of the colliers, seams are plainly visible to the naked eye, several feet in thickness. It is lignite, very black in color, and burns cleanly, making a strong fire, but leaving few cinders. If the water communication was improved enough to allow flat bottomed boats to reach Winnipeg without transshipment, the question of fuel supply for Manitoba would be settled, as there is sufficient coal in this district to warm this province for all time. Place gold mining to a limited extent is carried on in the sand bars of the river and good wages made at it, during the summer months. An extensive trade is also carried on with the north country by the merchants, and one that will increase as time goes on, as this place is now the base of supplies for the far north and will become one of the commercial centres of the west as soon as communication by rail is secured with the outside world. Everything is expensive judged by eastern values, owing to the long haul by team of two hundred miles across the prairie from Calgary, but as this gives employment to a large army of freighters, the money paid for it, does not motivate the country. The long distance from the centre of life and business, along the railway line, has prevented travellers and emigrants from coming here, or even knowing of the existence of such a place, but the firm conviction of all who have braved the long journey, is that the fertile belt of the Territories along the North Saskatchewan River. It is true we have no Chinook winds, such as those experienced farther south, but there are days during the winter when the air is mild and pleasant. Our winters are not so severe, and a total absence of blizzards, make them much more pleasant than in the Province of Manitoba. Cattle as a rule stabled during the nights of winter, although some have no other shelter than an open shed or a stack, and come out fat and healthy in the spring. The snow however is too deep for grazing during the cold weather which necessitates stall feeding during that period.

The experimental farm at Indian Head has had a small quantity of Ladoga wheat ground. The opinion formed was that it will make a good flour and would be a perfect success if mixed with the flour made from softer kinds.

Mr. D. W. Marsh, manager for T. C. Power & Co., has been offered the nomination for mayor of Calgary. The requisition was signed by 107 of the leading men of the town. Mr. Marsh acceded to the requisition and is now in the field.

Regina Leader: At Lac la Biche, Ladoga wheat ripened ten days earlier than red fyle. Mr. W. Saunders and Mr. Snails experiments with the wheat show it to be of an earlier variety than the fyle.

160 men have been killed by a mine explosion in Kansas. Black damp is supposed to have caused the explosion. The shaft into the mine which is 112 feet deep cannot be entered owing to foul air.

The accession of the republicans to power in the States means the admission of Dakota, Montana, and Washington Territories as States of the union, and as they are republican it will make the party independent of New York in an election.

Jack the Ripper the Whitechapel fiend has added another victim to those already slain. This makes the seventh murder. The body was terribly mutilated. Gen. WANTED.—Furs of all kinds; for which I will pay the current market price.

The residents of all points, north, east and south of Fort Saskatchewan, will find it a good point to trade at.

A snow storm and gale exceeding in severity anything ever experienced at this season and seldom equalled in winter, swept through the St. Lawrence valley on November 10th, and extended over the whole of Quebec and the Maritime provinces. Two and a half feet of snow fell on the Lower St. Lawrence and fears are entertained that there has been a large loss of life among the fishermen on both shores of the Gulf. How thankful we are on the North Saskatchewan should be that we do not live in a land where such storms prevail. Here we have not yet had enough snow to make sleighing and the weather has all along been splendid.

Chas. Dudley Warner who has been travelling through Canada, collecting material for a series of articles to appear in Harper's Magazine, gives it as his impression that the greatest obstacles to the growth of annexation feeling are the commercial importance of the C.P.R. and its possible value to England as a military highway in case of the closing of the Suez canal, and the great grain producing districts of the west. He also stated that as long as an individual had the opinion that in an emergency, he could fall back on some other support, he could have no true self dependence and that self dependence must be the true touch stone of a nation.
